

The Owingsville Outlawn.

VOL. XX.

OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1899.

NO. 28.

Notice.

Having sold a half-interest in my business, and desiring to close up my individual affairs as speedily as possible, I earnestly request all those indebted to me to settle with-out delay.

S. P. ATCHISON.

Mrs. Sarah Jones, of Craig's, gets a widow's pension of $5 per month.

James Emmons mail in a sleigh

While young son bill a target doctor.

three-year-old son of George Daniel, of color, died Friday of brain trouble.

The top price for hogs in the Chicago and Cincinnati markets Monday was 4c.

You want a Doctor to come in a hurry. Pay him promptly.

Patterson & McKinney's new 25-horse power boiler for their planing mill has arrived.

Jacob Warner and tenants Henry and Wm. Warner and their tobacco to J. D. Neely.

Call and get prices on Buggy Robes, Hames, Saddles, Bridles and Gearing.

John A. Ramsey & Co.

Today is Groundhog day. The action is good, because it is venerable, but for no other reason.

William Wright, of lower slate, bought Capt. E. Q. Wells' 74-acre farm on upper slate for $3,370.

T. S. Shout will sell you Furniture, Bedding and Coffins cheaper than anyone. Cash or credit.

Jacob Warner and tenant Ned Stoton sold about 11,000 pounds of tobacco to George A. Peed, at 6c, and 2,000 pounds at 4c.

Wheat, which has been doing for some years at this season, is advancing rapidly. Nearly all farms products are on the advance.

When you sell your tobacco go pay your Doctor. You will want him again.

Born, Saturday night, to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Shroud, of Washington, D. C., a son to Mr. and Mrs. Art Asbury, of Taylor's Branch, a son to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. T. Carter, of Prickett Ash, a daughter.

To Cure a Cold in One Day Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund money if it fails to cure. 25c.

The church candy-pulling last night was a great success, and netted about $8. Contributing the low admission price did well. Misses Ruth Rich and Mary Reynolds kindly received. The Outlook forced with of the candy, which was duly appreciated.

You went a Heating Stove or ate you buy them now (for a limited time), at greatly reduced prices. John A. Ramsey & Co.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Carmill's daughter Della May, not long from here, died on Prickett Ash street. She was the largest of most remarkably feeble family of three children. She weighed about 115 pounds. The undertaker had no coffin of the proper length large enough and had to make one.

The Doctor has to pay his Jan. account as well as others. Pay your bill.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.—Remaining in the postoffice at Owingsville (Jan. 21, 1899): John Bowles, James Chandler, The Hermitage Dist. Co., Johnny Langly, Mrs. Katie Willis, Mrs. Martha Daugherty, Lindsay & Botts, Frank Downs, John Williamson, Jennie Mack Macteria. Persons calling for above letters will please say "adver-tised."

J. N. Brock, P. M.

All persons knowing themselves indebted to us please call and settle their accounts at once.

Respt., S. SLEMEN.

Good DETECTIVE WORK.—Conrad Morris Evans, of Bethel, did a nice spot of detective work last week in arresting William Fox, of color, charged with the murder of his sweetheart Adie Marshall in Covington Nov. 23, 1898. Fox was living on Chas. Wilson's farm under an assumed name. He denied his identity to Evans until he got to Covington, when he admitted that he was Fox, but denied killing the girl. It is said that the two were sweethearts and had a quarrel in the presence of another woman. Fox placed a pistol to Adie's head and shot her dead. He skipped out. Evans will get the State's reward $250 for the capture.

TOBACCO SALES.—J. M. Elchert purchased on Limestone Branch Dr. Clark and T. W. Ewing's tobacco; near town, A. A. Edwards' & A. W. Bascom's at 6c.

John W. Corbin, of Raynoldsville, bought in that neighborhood Taylor Doggett's crop of tobacco at 4c; Warren Rodgers' at 4c; James Moore's at 6c; James Wilson's at 6c.

Purchases of Robertson Bros., of Bethel, in the Raynoldsville neighborhood: J. Tom Coyle's at 6c; Gray & Boyd's at 7c, less $20; Wm. Boyd's at 6c; O. S. Rodgers' at 6c; crops of Gf Hendrix and tenants Great Lyman and Stephen Boyd at 6c; one half interest in J. R. Corbin's at 6c.

READ AND PROFIT.—For the purpose of reducing our stock we will, for the next six days, offer EXTRAORDINARY BARGAINS in all kinds of Hardware, Stoves, Queenware, etc. John A. RAMSEY & CO.

SOCIAL.—On Thursday evening of last week at her home in Salt Lick Miss Lizzie Green gave an elegant social in honor of her charming guests: Miss Katherine McCormick, of Mt. Sterling, and Miss Stella Montague, of Farmers.

A delightful evening was spent, and at 12 o'clock the party dispersed, after many expressions of thanks to their handsome young hostess. An OUTLOOK man acknowledged receipt of an invitation, but on account of the inclement weather was prevented from attending.

Are you doing anything for your Doctor? He does lots for you.

Good LITTLE SNOW.—On Wednesday of last week a showman's van rolled slowly into town from the direction of Wyoming. It proved to be the regular traveling home of a party of variety performers consisting of three men, the Wilson Brothers, and the wives of two of them. In this house on wheels they live—cook, eat and sleep—while on a professional tour. On Wednesday and Thursday nights they gave performances at the Court-house and had very fair houses each night. The admission was only 15 cents. Those who didn't go missed a good thing. They have paid 50 cents many a time to see a show inferior to this. They made excellent music on various regular instruments and then showed their skill with a number of odd musical contrivances. The drawing was first-rate. Their puppet play was extremely amusing.

I have a fine upright Piano, in perfect condition, for sale.

JAMES GILLOX.

DUDLEY HART'S DEATH.—Dudley D. Hart died of Bright's disease at the home of his sister, Mrs. Pres Barnes, at Preston, at 8 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been critically ill for some weeks. The burial took place at the Owingsville Cemetery on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Deceased was a son of George Hart, deceased, and was aged about 54 years. His wife died about 12 years ago. Their two children died in infancy. His wife was a daughter of J. Calvin Moore. His brothers are William, of Roe's Run; Samuel, of Montgomery County, and Henry, of Kanawha and sisters Mrs. Pres Barnes, of Prestepone; Mrs. Thomas Fletcher, of Clay City, and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, of Steppetone. Dudley Hart was a popular, good citizen and a thrifty farmer and live-stock trader. He leaves a considerable estate, which will go to the relatives. See Crook's items for a feeling tribute to deceased.

John Duncan old and new white Tobacco seed for sale by Brother & Goodpaster. 25c.

COL. ROGERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.—With this issue appears the announcement of the candidacy of Col. L. S. Rogers, of Sharpburg precinct, for County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic party. Col. Rogers is well known to the Democrats of Bath from his participation in the battles of the party heretofore. He has been a staunch Democrat and can show a record of loyalty to the party that establishes a claim to the due consideration of its members now that he desires a nomination. He is a man of pronounced ability, wide experience in public affairs, and would be a commanding figure as the leader of the party standard in any campaign from a Congressional down to a county one. Being a farmer his interests are those of the masses of the people. He is specially fitted for the duties of County Judge from having served one term in that office in Robertson county. He would be pleased to have all Democrats give their candidacy their thoughtful attention.

FOR SALE.—A new Sayers & Scovell phaeton; new hand-made, brass-mounted harness made by Col. P. M. Goodwin; and a good buggy horse. Will sell all together, or separately. OWINGSVILLE GRANITE & MARBLE CO.

PERSONAL.

R. H. Conner spent a few days the past week in Farmers.

Miss Orr Hart, of Roe's Run, has about recovered from an attack of measles.

J. D. Coons, of near Bethel, joined his wife at Mrs. Lide Kincaid's Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Scott, of Peeled Oak, visited Henry Scott's family some days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. A. T. Byron returned last week from a visit to Falmouth.

Glad to see Postmaster J. N. Byron able to be on the streets again from his recent spell of sickness.

Master Nathan Sorrell, of lower Flat Creek, visited his sister, Mrs. Oscar Palmer, from Saturday till Tuesday.

Mrs. Thomas Gorrell and son Samuel, of Montgomery county, were pleasant callers at THE OUTLOOK office Friday.

Misses Susie Burroughs and Edna Land, of Mt. Sterling, were guests of Mrs. John A. Daugherty Friday and Saturday.

Dr. Late Robbins, of Salt Lick, was here Saturday.

Born, Jan. 27th, to John Worn-wine and wife, son.

Dr. F. M. Carter was in Mt. Sterling last week on business.

R. H. Conner, of Owingsville, was a visitor here Sunday.

By A Guest.

TOLL-HOUSEES FOR SALE.—We will sell the two toll-houses on the Owingsville & Wyoming turnpike on Saturday, Feb. 11th, 1899: the gatehouse at Wyoming at 1 o'clock p.m., and the one near the mouth of Prickett Ash at 3 p.m. Terms, one half cash, the other half due twelve months from date of sale, bearing 6 per cent. interest. Lee Rice, auctioneer.

J. H. RICHARD, Pres.

TEMPERANCE SERMONS.—During the month of February, 1899, a series of special meetings will be conducted by Elder T. S. Tinsley at the following places on the dates given. All these meetings shall be devoted to the purpose of restraining men by the love of Christ to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors.

SLATE VALLEY.

1. Monday night, Feb. 6th.

2. Tuesday night, Feb. 7th.

3. Wednesday night, Feb. 8th.

HARPER'S SCHOOL-HOUSE.

1. Monday night, Feb. 13th.

2. Tuesday night, Feb. 14th.

3. Wednesday night, Feb. 15th.

MR. ELIZABETH WILCOX (nee COLEMAN), formerly of this town, now of Paducah, Ky., came Monday to visit relatives and friends in the town and county. She is the guest of Mrs. Leslie Conner at present.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harper, of Catlettsburg, attended the funeral of Mrs. W. C. Harper last week. Mr. Harper returned home Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Harper will remain some time with her son Will, at Stepstone.

Sherman Paxton left Monday to attend the Kentucky University at Lexington. He will study for the ministry. He is a model young man, his moral being of the best. His many friends here will take a strong interest in his advancement.

SUBJECTS OF SERMONS.

CONTINUED FROM FOURTH PAGE.

Stepstone.

Jos. H. Lowry's daughter, who has been down with typhoid fever so long and has been at the point of death for more than a week, is still alive, and she being able to pull through so long, we now hope that she will get up and be happy.

Dudley Hart, of the Preston neighborhood, died last Thursday, from the effect of a relapse of typhoid fever. He was well known and liked in this neighborhood, and had many kinsfolk and friends at this place who are exceedingly sorry to hear of his death.

We are so sad over the death of one of our best neighbors, Mrs. W. C. Harper, who died last Thursday morning at 11 a.m., that we can't recall very many happenings this week. She was as good a neighbor as ever anyone lived by, ever having a pleasant smile and a kind word for all. No one ever called on her in vain, for they were fitted out to the best of her ability every time. If she had an enemy we are at a loss to know who it is, and we know that if enemy, if any, were to tell the truth, they would have to tell why she was too good to us. If there ever was anyone that went to Heaven she is sure to be that person, "for such is the Kingdom of God."

We are exceedingly sorry to say that Mrs. Ed. Glover, of upper Stepstone, is down with another stroke of paralysis and is in a very low state, with chances against her, but where there is life there is hope, and we hope that she will pull through and live to a great old age, for there are several small children that we hope she will be spared to raise in the way they should go.

Mrs. Effie D. wife of W. C. Har- per, died at Stepstone, Thursday, Jan. 26th, 1899. She was the oldest daughter of Jas. R. Shroud, of near there, being born, July 14th, 1877, and the pet of the whole family. While yet in youth she professed her faith in the Almighty Christ and connected herself with Corinth Church. Ever after that lived up to the true doctrine, as laid down by the "Book of God," as she understood it. On March 10th, 1897, she was married to W. C. Harper, the only child of James Harper, of Catlettsburg, Ky. They settled down to housekeeping at Stepstone station and lived the life of the just, happy in the company of each other, and yet deriving more happiness from the wise method of trying to make every one they came in contact with happy, and we all miss her so much. To think that this young lady should be taken away at the age of 21 years 6 months and 12 days, when she was doing so much good for her Master, working in his vineyard, and to leave her helpless, who was ever willing to sit by her in her good work at any and all times, regardless of the cost to him, is a sad thing to us, and we hope and pray that the all-wise God in his wisdom will cheer and help those who left her behind to their Cross (that this bereavement will still add to it) with as much ease as possible. She was buried in Owingsville Cemetery and the pall-bearers were her uncles, both dead and by marriage.

Come, ye disconsolate, where'er you langish,

At God's altar fervently knock,

Here tell your wounded hearts,

Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot heal!"

Farmers.

Mrs. W. L. Hudgins is very ill with pneumonia.

Mr. Late Robbins, of Salt Lick, was here Saturday.

Born, Jan. 27th, to John Worn-wine and wife, son.

Dr. F. M. Carter was in Mt. Sterling last week on business.

R. H. Conner, of Owingsville, was a visitor here Sunday.

By A Guest.

MISS LIZZIE MOORE went last Thursday to visit friends at Carlisle. She returned home Sunday, accompanied by Larkin Combs.

Geo. A. Peed and Emmett Park, of town, and E. P. Hendrix, of lower Flat Creek, are selling tobacco on the Louisville break this week.

Levi Goodpaster and Levi Fratman have rented the John S. Wilson farm near Bethel and will farm this year.

Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Miss Maggie Kelley. Miss Kelley went home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Emily Bradbury, of Camargo, will keep house for them.

Owingsville Outlook.

D. S. ESTILL Publisher

OWINGSVILLE, KENTUCKY

DOING AND DREAMING:

"Oh could I lift?" a dreamer cried.
These bitter burdens of the poor,
Grant them no joys of life denied,
So I will dream no more,
Lighten the cloud of incarnation.
For all the helpless, hopeless strong,
And with them some deliverance,
No man can stand alone,
What blessedness could life contain?
To equal this? Alas—
The dear death shuns a vain
And useless life."

Up! Up! My heart is weary,
Not needed;
When helping, it might have been
To many a soul in trouble,
The hungry chum,
And overlooked the sad old man.
That a kind word—
Such ready ease,
What pleasure had dream
—Mary Lee.

watched my g...
and his...
him," he bissed, "the dog he is...
business."

"Then do...
shear him."

"At... out does he do there?"

"Monsieur...
taking me by the sleeve of my doublet,
I know not; but a fortnight ago he came here with a score of lances at his back, and the king's commission in his skirt, and he lords it as if he were the duke himself. Yesterday a great duke can up from Paris, and he was against the king. Monsieur, I can prove this. You saved my life once, and best as I am now, I still grateful.
Come with me; I will settle my score with him, and tomorrow you can bear news to the court that will make you a great man!"

It was one of those moments that require instant decision. It was certainly not going to assist Nicholas in counting his friends, but the king's doublet would be easily stripped, but it what the man said was true, then he had given me information that might be of the greatest value to me. If it was true, well, then I should have a fool's errand for my pains, but be otherwise none the worse off. There was no time to question him in detail—for a second I was silent, and Marie looked down on me another of us, with wide-open eyes.

"You have a horse?" I asked.

"Yes, monsieur. It is hidden in the stable and ready for you."

"We're ready, M. le Chevalier," and Jacques' voice broke in upon us, Jacques standing in the doorway. "My man was made up that instant, and I decided to take the chance."

"Did you see her?"

"By daylight, monsieur, would not that be a hundred and twenty miles?"

"Howbeit, M. le Chevalier?"

"This is tomorrow, Mademoiselle," said
"Cousine," I thought so. And how the devil do you come to her?"

"Her reins were in the wind when I caught her, a fair price of war, and M.
de Bourne will never hear her more. Since I got her she has saved me twice, and if I can't help it we shall never part."

"I stroked the mare's neck, wet and glistening with the dew-dew, quickly mounting, saw her rise to her feet, the mare for a kick, and wedged out of the dewy in single file, and after forcing her way through the wet and shining leaves around us, found a bridle path.

Along this my guide went at a trot.

Nicholas suddenly pulled up and held out a warning hand.

"What is it?" I asked, in a low tone.

"Hush!" he said, and then in a rapid whisper: "There are 100 yards and we come to the open. Aries before us, and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

The horses were very securely fastened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

and was half afraid you had none, mon-
sieur."

"The horses were very securely fast-
ened, and when this was done Nicholas
spoke low and earnestly: "Should we be
discovered, monsieur, there is no use
making a standing fight. The odds are
too many. When we come to the open
it will show you a withered oak. This
is exactly opposite where the horses
are—there the road goes down the hill,
and the rest of the way must be done
on foot."

"And the horses?"

"Fasted, then there. You have a pick-
ing rope?"

"I'll stand round the neck of the house."

"Good, I had not noticed it before,

STATE NEWS ITEMS.

WILSON'S TRIAL.

Signs Unearthed at the Preliminary Hearing - Accused Gave to Jail at Richmond to Await Trial.

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 27. — The trial of E. K. Wilson, charged with causing the death of Miss Mary Floyd, which began Tuesday, was resumed Wednesday morning. At 9 o'clock the Commonwealth resumed its testimony. Sarah Wyatt, a domestic, testified to having found the instrument and the medicine in Miss Floyd's trunk, which the girl had stated in her dying statement Wilson had used in performing the operation.

Dr. A. C. Foster stated that some time during the month of December Wilson came to him and explained Miss Floyd's condition, and requested of the physician a prescription, but it was refused. Two weeks later Wilson went to the doctor's room, and mentioning certain instruments asked for the loan of them. Wilson said he wanted to use them on Miss Floyd. Wilson then said that he was going to buy a catheter. Dr. Kinz, druggist of London, testified to Wilson's buying the catheter. This concluded the testimony for the Commonwealth. Wilson was still in jail awaiting the further term of court here.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

The Body of Mrs. Emma Boger, a Morphine Fiend, Found in the Back Yard of Her Residence.

RUSSELLVILLE, Ky., Jan. 30. — Mrs. Emma Boger, a morphine fiend, was found dead in the back yard of her residence at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. She was not missed until morning and her people thought she was in her room all night. When found she was frozen stiff. It is supposed that she took an overdose of morphine, and when the stupor came over her she was unable to get back to the house. She had sold nearly everything in her house and nearly all of her clothing in order to get money to buy morphine with. She was a complete zero. Mrs. Boger was the wife of a prominent lawyer of Kansas, but they had lived together for some years.

The Last Postpaid.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27. — The suit to test the question as to whether the convict parole law is still in force or will not be taken up in the circuit court Thursday. The commissioners postponed their case up to Friday. The appellants being the Paducah Street Railway Co. and the Paducah Electric Light Co. The opinion regarding private corporations to repeat to the auditor or be fined, was cited and confirmed in the opinion Friday.

The Last Postpaid.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27. — The principal parties engaged were John Tolson, Letcher Vanderpool, Rich Toler and Berry Dunigan. About 15 shots were fired.

Berry Dunigan, who seems to have been the chief actor in the play, made his escape. Toler, it is thought, is mortally wounded, and Vanderpool will also probably die. A man named Combs was badly wounded.

After-Sent's Plea.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 27. — State Auditor S. H. Stone will leave for Washington Thursday to make formal application to succeed Senator Scott as commissioner of internal revenue. If Stone succeeds in lending the place Gov. Bradley will have to name Stone's successor to serve until next January, probable that Congressman Wadsworth of Louisville, will oppose the commissionership.

New Kentucky Commissioners.

SPRINGFIELD, Ky., Jan. 30. — The state companies have filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. Harris-Gaylor-Carterton of Louisville, capital stock, $10,000; Brown Coal Co. of Russell county, total stock, $10,000.

Received by Blackberries.

LONDON, Ky., Jan. 26. — Stephen Moore, wife and four children are lying in critical condition at their home in Pittsburgh, poisoned by eating red blackberries. Mr. Moore is not expected to live, but the others are convalescing.

Baby's Strange Death.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 30. — William Miller, 6 months old, was left alone by his mother and crawled beneath the mattress. When she returned a hour later the little one was dead. The body was still warm.

Birds Leaf Tobacco Deal.

GLENCOE, Ky., Jan. 30. — A gigantic deal in leaf tobacco was effected here in which the Continental Tobacco Co. purchased of F. S. Stine 50,000 pounds at prices better than off the market. There are 450 hogheads in the lot.

A Missing Broker.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 28. — J. W. O'Dell, the commission broker, is still absent from this city, and his customers are uneasy. One of them has attached the office fixtures of O'Dell's firm and others have gone to Cincinnati to look for the missing broker.

Capt. Ellis Signs.

LUCASVILLE, Ky., Jan. 29. — Capt. and First Assistant Surgeon Ellis Duncan, 1st regiment Kentucky volunteers, who served throughout the campaign in Porto Rico, has tendered his resignation from the army.

Bankrupt Cases.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan. 29. — The following voluntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed Friday: J. L. Ebin, Shelby county, liabilities $28,773, assets $625; W. C. Gilkeson, of Versailles, liabilities $1,871, assets $57.

Why They Left Him Go.

CONSTANCE, Ky., Jan. 26. — The relatives of Walter Garrett and G. W. Gordon were robbed. Garrett and his son caught the thief with the plow and started for the jail with him. He cried so pitifully that they let him go. He was about 45 years old.

Holiday in a Trunk.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 27. — At King's Mills J. R. Culver found a new-born white boy baby in a small trunk on his back porch. The child was sent to the county poorhouse for the present.

To Name a Commissioner.

PADUCAH, Ky., Jan. 27. — The executive committee of the First railroad district has called a convention to meet at Hopkinsville March 8, to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner.

President Harrison Decries.

VALLEY VIEW, Ky., Jan. 27. — The town is greatly excited over the reported discovery of silver ore two miles west of this place on Marble creek, in Jessamine county. Several parties from this place have examined the ore.

The American Missionary association has issued an appeal to the Congregational church of the United States to observe February 12 Lincoln Sunday.

NOT LEPROSY.

An Investigation Made of the Suspected Case at Cordova - Pronounced Hereditary Cancer.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky., Jan. 28. — An investigation has just been made into an alleged case of Asiatic leprosy which was said to exist at Cordova, a village ten miles from here. While the investigating physician has reported that it is a case of hereditary cancer, and not leprosy, the people of the county are still terribly excited. County Judge J. H. Westover ordered an investigation to be made by Dr. D. P. O'Hara. He reported that he found the suspected case in the family of Mr. H. Martin. He found one child with leprosy so disfigured by an eruption that its features were scarcely distinguishable. Another member was disfigured by a large protuberance on the left side of the head. He pronounced these to be due to hereditary cancer, and not leprosy. The disease has first appeared in the form of spots on the skin, which developed into eruptions, and this caused the report of leprosy.

AN ENTIRE FAMILY LOST.

In a Plunder Boat Due, A Committee to Raise Funds to Create the Bank Good Lord.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30. — The Tribune's Teleg., D. says:

"The loss of an entire family in Lake Erie is reported here Sunday. One of the islands in the Bass group lived in a family named Bremen. The family consisted of the father, mother, a daughter of 25, a son of 5, and a hired man, Henry M. Martin."

The little boy died, and his parents determined to take the body back to Canada, where they came. A plunger boat was used, the entire family starting on the perilous journey. The last-cited clunker boat had his son found and the body of a woman reported found recently near Port Huron, on the Canadian shore. It is presumed to have been Mrs. Bremen. The other bodies have not been found.

PANIC IN AN OMAHA THEATER

Large Bear Escaped With an Elevated Train It Was Trying to Escape From Its Cage.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 30. — An enormous silver tip bear, frenzied with an averted tooth, which its master was trying to extract, escaped from its cage in the Freightliner theater Sunday and escaped a piano before being captured. In addition to frightening a number of persons, the big bear seriously hurt its master, Paul Batty, badly lacerated hand and torn the clothes of Jake Rosenthal, manager of the theater.

In the maze of scenery back of the stage the bear vented his fury by demolishing everything in sight. By this time the trainer recovered sufficiently to direct the beating of irons to subdue the animal. His roar could be heard for several blocks.

BAD ACCIDENT IN A TUNNEL.

A Gang of Tramps Run Down by a Train - the Killer Will Be and Steel Were Injured.

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 29. — A gang of 29 tramp raiders were working on the railroads at the western opening of the railroad tunnel at 3 a.m. Sunday afternoon when they heard the approach of a locomotive, which was running west through the tunnel. The workmen all stopped from the north track, on which westbound trains move to the south track. The smoke in the tunnel prevented them from seeing the approaching locomotive, which in order to avoid obstructions on the north track was running on the south track, the man was instantly killed, one died in the Altoona hospital, and 16 were more or less seriously injured. None escaped without injury.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER.

Conviction of a Negro Who Killed Trap-Jar with a Stick in Parkersburg, W. Va.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 30. — In the case of the state vs. Jim Hains, colored, for the murder of "Trap-Jar" Thomas, also colored, which occurred several months ago, the criminal court returned a verdict of guilty on the second degree shortly before 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

Hains told Thomas to a friend's house and deliberately emptied a shotgun into his face, causing instant death, but his counsel showed that the latter had made threats against Hains.

Ton's Arrest in His Home.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 28. — Theodore Kirchner, aged 39 years, shot and instantly killed his wife, Paulina, aged 45 years, in their house at Newburgh, near this city Sunday by the careless handling of a gun which was accidentally discharged.

Not Enough to Know Better.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 28. — The jury in the celebrated Begley-Ashler case, after wrestling with the evidence for 10 days, returned verdict for Judge Beckner, the plaintiff, awarding him, however, only $5,000 of the $30,000 sued for. An appeal will probably be taken.

Burden to Death.

THOMPSONVILLE, Ky., Jan. 29. — Mrs. Meriah Biggs, an aged woman who lived alone, was found burned to death in her home near Three Springs, Hart county.

Body of the Postman Found.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 26. — The body found near Fort St. Philip was Sunday identified as that of Capt. Sturtevant, the pilot of the launch Paul Jones. From the position and clothing of the body it is almost certain that he was off duty and asleep at the time he death, and that the boat was wrecked by an explosion during the night.

Douglas' Success.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 29. — Representative George Payne of New York, has been appointed a member of the canal commission to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Douglas.

The Diamond Thief's Victim.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 30. — It is now stated that the veiled woman who visited Diamond Thief Lynch at the county jail Thursday was Mrs. Pomeroy, of Toledo, wife of the man who was robbed of several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds. She sought to recover the gems through Lynch's id.

St. Luke's German Evangelical.

VALLEY VIEW, Ky., Jan. 27. — The town is greatly excited over the reported discovery of silver ore two miles west of this place on Marble creek, in Jessamine county. Several parties from this place have examined the ore.

The American Missionary association has issued an appeal to the Congregational church of the United States to observe February 12 Lincoln Sunday.

Youngest Insane Patient.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 27. — Grace Estelle, aged 9, from Lawrence county, has been admitted to the Eastern Kentucky Lunatic asylum. He is the youngest patient ever treated there.

W BRITISH WAR VESSELS.

Number S. W. Building Is 110. Rating from the Highest Battle Ship to the Lowest Torpedo Boat Destroyer.

LONDON, Jan. 29. — The record number of British war ships now building amounts to 110 vessels, ranging from the heaviest battle ships to the tiny torpedo boat destroyers, the figures being 46 first class ironclads, 50 monitors, 11 sloops and embarks, and 55 torpedo boat destroyers. Thirteen dock yards are crowded with the unparalleled achievement of launching three of the heaviest battle ships from the same ship within ten months. The armored ships building at a cost of over £100,000 each, and with a tonnage of over 50,000 tons, the number exceeding by two the entire Russian fleet of battle ships and frigates.

Washington, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

Senate Votes W. T. on the 14th. — The Everard and Harcourt and Martyn Academus Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. — The Senate will devote practically all of the time this week to the consideration of the peace treaty. Senator Allison, chairman of the committee on appropriations, says he will not interfere at any time with the consideration of the treaty by asking to have appropriation bills taken up, and as a consequence the treaty will have complete right of way.

This week will see the close of the unending debate both in executive session and in open session, as the vote is set for 3 o'clock a week from Monday.

OWINGSVILLE OUTLOOK.

D. S. ESTILL, - Publisher.

OWINGSVILLE, - KY.

$1 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE.

NOTICE.—Obituaries, memorials, etc., not to exceed 80 words, inserted free; $1 charged for each additional eighty words.

Correspondents will please remember to always mail their items so that they will reach us on Monday. This matter is seriously important to us.

CLUBBING TERMS.

The Owingsville Outlook and either of the following will be sent for one year for the price named:

Outlook and Twice-a-Week Courier-Journal, $1.30.
Outlook and Weekly Cincinnati Commercial Tribune, $1.40.

Owens and Louisville Daily Post, $2.85.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Democratic Voters of Fayette County.—I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of Judge of the Bath County Court, subject to the action of the Democratic party, and declare that I favor the following:

1st. An economical administration of the fiscal affairs of the county;

2d. The payment of all just and legal obligations of the county in the most speedy manner consistent with public interests;

3d. A reduction of expenses, including salaries of county officers;

4th. The further acquiring and taking up of all the remaining turnpike roads in the county and keeping them in repair;

5th. An economical and judicious expenditure of the turnpike fund, to the end that free turnpikes may reach the free legitimate conclusions and expectations and desires of the people.

Upon these issues I solicit your support. JOHN A. DAUGHERTY.

We are authorized to announce J. S. Rogers, of near Sharpburg, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for County Judge of Bath. Your support is solicited.

THURSDAY, FEB. 2, 1889.

STAGNATION is said to be more fatal than the most corrupt activity. That is reassuring for Louisville.

ATLANTA is howling because the meat trust has doubled the price of beef liver. The boudoirs cheap houses are not making any kick, however.

The Republicans worked the Senatorial trick in West Virginia, electing N. B. Scott. His Democratic rival J. E. McGraw will contest.

The Tennessee lower house passed a bill making it a felony to keep a place for shooting craps. The same must be preserved or there'll soon be nothing but places to shoot.

It appears that a lot of the boys fearing the Gobbel band-wagon was not going to the head of the procession quietly moved to the rear and went over the tail-board to the ground.

The latest returns give eight negroes in Rowan county for the Democratic nomination for Representative from the Bath-Rowan district. That is a new record for that office.

Gov. McMILLIN, of Tennessee, got in a heavy blow for silver by vetoing a bill permitting Memphis to issue bonds payable in any sort of money on contract. Every little like that helps to save the country from the ruthless money power.

LEXINGTON is about to lose its most distinguishing feature by the sale under lien of the Association's running track in town lots at auction this spring. Lexington without horseracing would be a commonplace town.

One of the leading statesmen of the Texas legislature introduced a resolution favoring that State's withdrawal from the Union because of some feature of the war-revenue law. That secessionist is a great unconscious humorist.

GODZELL says he hasn't a single daily newspaper of general circulation for him. Neither has Hardin unless the Dispatch has recently espoused his cause. Hardin seemed for a while to have rather soured on the organ he was largely instrumental in establishing.

It is funny to see the new brand of Democrats, the Chicago-platform sort of Democrats, rejoice because Stewart was re-elected Senator from Nevada. Stewart comes about as near to being a Democrat as the Prop to being a Mohammedan—unless free-silverism is made the test, and the sole test, of Democracy.

CONGRESSMAN JOHNSON, of Indiana, is made of the right sort of stuff in that he follows his convictions of right and duty regardless of the party lash or public opinion. He may espouse some bad causes, but he is always honest, sincere, and defiant to the crowd if it be against him. But Johnson wasn't re-elected last fall. His loss dismays too many of the low arts of the politician to hold office continually. Johnson made probably his last formal address in the House last week against "expansion," and the way he scored some of the expansionists was a caution.

Gen. EAGAN, without a misses' vote, was found "guilty" and unbecoming an officer and gentleman" by the court-martial. It is said he will only be reprimanded. In view of the provocation he had, it looks like that will be sufficient punishment.

CUMMINGTON was chosen by the Texas legislature to succeed Roger Q. Mills in the United States Senate. Mills' political career is probably ended. He would have been a more heroic figure in his retirement if he had gone down fighting for sound money as he started to instead of surrendering to the Bryan forces in 1896.

The conspiracy case of "Mrs. Alice Montgomery" and associates against Councilman Cimatti in Louisville was dismissed by Judge Thompson, who salivated Cimatti though he disapproved of the methods of conspirators to manufacture a "scam" for a new evening newspaper about to be launched. The whole kit and caboodle of them deserved salivating.

A man walked behind the counter at Parr's bank in London last week and took $300,000 in notes from a drawer. One hundred clerks were at work there, but the thief wasn't noticed. $200,000 in notes too big to pass without arousing suspicion were returned by mail. American enterprise receives the usual tribute in the suspicion that Americans did the trick.

The Senate has set Feb. 6th for a vote on the peace treaty between Spain and the United States. It seems a foregone conclusion that the Senate will ratify it. Expansion proper will go over to the new Congress, when maybe the sober second thought of the statesmen and the people will not urge the hasty entrance upon a policy of colonization that is so contrary to the traditions of the nation.

An article telling more fully about the projected great Black Diamond railroad system was crowded out of this issue. In it we shall fair to the projectors and tell what they profess to be aiming at, although we may still express some doubts about it. Be assured we shall use none but legitimate means in dealing with the subject. There will be no childish blackguardism nor downright meanness in it.

It is evident that not all the sentiment against expansion has its source in motives of lofty regard for the rights of the inhabitants of the countries whose annexation is contemplated. Carnegie thinks he sees the downfall of protectionism in it, and perhaps the legislature of Pennsylvania is actuated by similar motives in urging Congress to adhere to the principle of the Declaration of Independence that governments gain their just powers from the consent of the governed.

CECIL RHODES has induced the British government to guarantee 350 miles—from Bulawayo to Zambezi—of the great railroad from Cairo, Egypt, to Cape Town, South Africa. That looks like a vast project until "Pathfinder" Boone's "Pine Dream" system of railroads is considered. The Arabian Nights even are not in it by the side of Boone. The "Pine Dream" railroad starts any old place, branches and ramifies at each watering tank, covers the continent, and then runs clean to the ultimate fireworks, where he will soon send his durbtful critics.

THE LOUISVILLE DISPATCH has serious trouble in its "midst." B. A. Enloe, the Tennessee editor who came from Nashville to Louisville in 1896 to establish the Dispatch as a free-silver organ to down the gold-bug journals there, has resigned as editor and says that the money power by subscribing $26,000 to the capital stock of the Dispatch Publishing Co. has gained a controlling voice in its editorial policy. That's the way with journals established to down some other paper. The journalistic trail in the United States is strewn with the corpses and bones of such, but only a few leave anything from it.

SENATOR WM. GOEBEL opened his campaign for the Gubernatorial nomination with a speech at Lebanon Monday week. He said he wouldn't accept a nomination unless on the Chicago platform, declared warmly for free silver, Bryan and Blackburn. He says the "crime of 1873" must be avenged, and good times will never come without it to silver coinage. Up to the time of the State convention in 1896 there was no stronger gold-standard advocate in the State. How are people to judge the sincerity of such men? Convictions on such questions do not undergo natural changes that way.

W. H. HOWARD Scott Johnson attended the birthday bound party given by Miss Sadie Crosthwaite, of Mount Hope, Friday night. The boys don't seem to care for high water when they want to go to a party. They report a good time.

SALT LICK.

Frank Prater came to this town with the corpse of his wife Jan. 20th, on his way to Blackwater, Morgan County, for interment. Douglass Smith accompanied him, returning Monday night. Mr. Smith says he found many friends and was hospitably cared for.

Mrs. PEACHY ROSE HEDGER, wife of Thornton Hedger, Sheriff of Menifee county, died at Frenchburg, Jan. 17th, 1898, and the remains were brought back to the burial ground on the old homestead in the southern part of Bath county for interment. She was the only daughter of Van Rose, deceased, a well-known and respected citizen, who passed away April 5th, 1898, and his wife, Mrs. Amy Rose. Mrs. Hedger was 29 years old the 16th of last March. She leaves only a child, a son eleven years old. She was a half sister of J. W. Jessie, A. B. and Douglass Smith, all well-known good citizens, and a full brother Lonny Rose.

CROOKS.

MISS ETHEL BARNES is considerably better.

HURRAH! for our free turnpikes. They are "good ones."

A 9-pound girl was born to Eli Craycraft and wife, Jan. 26.

J. F. JOHNSON sold three hogs to Fritz Carmichael at $4 cents.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Naylor's Branch.

Old Aunt Kitti Coyle is on the sick list.

ANTHONY LATHRAM has returned from an extended visit in Owen Co.

Mrs. W. J. HONAKER has been sick, but is some better at this writing.

LOUIS A. KNOX and wife, of Owingsville, are visiting relatives in this community.

There is talk of several more residences going up near the State Valley Church in the near future.

Julius Bailey is erecting a new residence near the State Valley Church; John M. Coyle, boss workman.

Olympia.

Mr. F. Jackson was in Mt. Washington the past week.

Ben T. McGhoshen, of Johnson Station, was down Sunday.

WM. COLVIN, one of our hustling drummers, was in town Saturday, accompanied by his wife.

DAVID GAULT, recently of Texas, but now of Owingsville, is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. K. Jackson.

SAM JACKSON, of near Millersburg, was up the past week. Sam talks as though he might be back again soon.

Some boys of the Some Spring neighborhood have got their foot in it" by misconduct during religious services at that place.

Moore's Ferry.

Pearl McLain is also on the sick list.

JOS. PURVIS is on the sick list with symptoms of fever.

ALLEN SPENCE will erect a new store at Hedrick's shortly.

BORN, Jan. 27, 1899, to Wm. RAZOR and wife, a ten-pound boy.

MRS. ANNIE L. SORRELL visited her sister, Mrs. B. C. Christy, Saturday and Sunday.

WILLIS COULINS bought five head of cattle last week of W. K. RAZOR at $25 a head.

MRS. SUSAN BATTY, who had been trying with Mrs. Susan Ratliff, of Ringo's Mills, for some time, returned home last week.

MRS. SIBBIE MCDONALD, J. A. McDONALD, Mrs. T. J. BLACKFORD and Miss MYRTLE BEE visited William Station and wife Thursday.

ELGIN SHARP and Charles ARNDT have started a new blacksmith shop on Mill street.

DAVID CASSIDY and wife, of Little Rock, visited at the home of John Fields on Thursday.

MISSES KATE and LIDA SMITH and WALTER BOYD visited friends near Sideview on Friday and Saturday.

JOHN HUMPHREY visited friends near Plummer's Landing last week.

JONES AND ANDERSON are doing a hustling business here, selling small parts and getting the cash.

MISS IDA HARMON, of Grange City, who had been visiting friends here for ten days, returned home last Friday.

W. A. GARNER sold to W. T. ANDERSON last week a span of mares, 3 years old, in the spring, for $150.

JOSEPH VICE sold his tobacco to Tom ROBERTSON, of Bethel, at 4½ pounds.

J. E. HEATH, at the old Rover, male shop two miles south of town, has fitted up a nice store room and will conduct a general store.

AMBROSE JONES, wife and little daughter Nannie Lee visited Oscar PALMER and wife, in Owingsville, Saturday night and Sunday.

MRS. THOS. S. STEPHENS, who fell and broke her leg near the ankle some two or three years ago, and who has been suffering from a stroke of paralysis for the last year, fell and broke her leg again in another place last week.

C. S. TEMPLEMAN, the hustling agent of the Hurst Home & F. E. INSURANCE CO., was in this community the first of last week and wrote a policy for JONES & ANDERSON on their goods and one for J. S. ANDERSON at the store-house and will conduct a general store.

MRS. THOS. S. STEPHENS, who fell and broke her leg near the ankle some two or three years ago, and who has been suffering from a stroke of paralysis for the last year, fell and broke her leg again in another place last week.

MISS KATE CORBETT, of Mt. Sterling, closed her school at Giddings Hill schoolhouse last Wednesday with a nice treat to the scholars. Miss Kate is a splendid teacher and has given universal satisfaction.

CARRINGTON.

BEN PIERS found one of his hoots on Cedar Cliff.

J. E. HOVERNALE will move to Preston this week to engage in blacksmithing.

C. F. CRAIG is running his mill six days out of each week, and probably go to Florida to spend the winter.

IT is often that this winter is heard from, so please pardon us if we say too much.

THE PILLOWS in the Frenchburg hotels are made so large travelers can hardly pocket them.

WHEN A BOY once begins to smoke cigarettes, he no longer has any regard for his future. He has none.

ED THRESHER will move to Florida this week. Elder SPENCER will move to the property vacated by Mr. THRESHER.

IT is reported that "West End" killed nine ducks on day last week. We didn't ask whether they were tame or wild.

MRS. DAISEY HOPPER returned Monday from a visit to Cynthiana.

WM. WILLIAMS, of Helena, visited his stepfather, WM. HALL, here last week.

MRS. JNO. W. CALL is quite sick with pneumonia at her home near here.

GRANT SAUNDERS left last week for Norfolk, Va., with a car-load of horses.

WALTER COOK continues quite poorly.

THOS. DAVIS will farm on M. C. SAUNDERS' place near here.

FRANK CLARK, of Ashland, visited here last week buying stock.

JAMES KENDALL visited at South Side from Friday till Sunday.

A. N. CROOKS will ship a car-load of hogs to the Cincinnati market this week.

H. M. GRAVES was here last week soliciting for some warehouse in Louisville.

JOHN OAKLEY and son JOE returned from Roe's Run with a drove of cattle.

JOHN HARPER and JOHN COPPER sold and delivered their tobacco to J. D. NOEL at 7½¢.

WARREN STEWART, of White Oak, has moved on A. G. V. COOK's place to raise a crop of tobacco.

THE MATRIMONIAL wave that is sweeping over the country proves one of two things—either that times are getting better or young people of marriageable age are becoming more reckless.

THE SICK.—MRS. SUSAN SECREST and son RALPH are better. GEORGE LUNN has the grip.

TOM MCROBBIE has been very ill.

MRS. RENALD SHIELDS a surprise party Monday night of this week, it being her 14th birthday.

WM. COOPER, who left here last spring and joined a cavalry company at Morehead, returned here Saturday from Indian Territory, having been discharged from the army.

A TEAM of HORSES ran off with MINOR RAWLING Monday of this week here in town, ran against a post, threw him but cut an ugly scalp wound, on which DR. S. F. O'BRIEN took 6 or 7 stitches.

MOOREFIELD.

MRS. GODLEY, who has been ill some weeks, is better.</